Transformative Journey of Cosmo Nari Swayampurna Program

Cosmo Nari Swayampurna Program launched its second phase in March 2024, establishing Sewing Centers in four villages of Madhya Pradesh, dedicated to empowering women through skill development in stitching and embroidery. Currently, 100 women are thriving in these canter, producing school uniforms, fulfilling contracts for ready-made garment shops, and catering to individual customers from rural areas. This initiative not only enhances their craftsmanship but also provides them with the opportunity to earn between ₹10,000 and ₹15,000 per month, depending on their work schedule. By fostering independence and financial stability, the program is transforming lives and creating a brighter future for these women and their communities.

From Ironing to Independence: Sunderben's Road to Empowerment

Under the project of Nari Ki Savari, Cosmo Foundation, empowers women through financial support and skill development, especially in four-wheeler driving. This initiative significantly enhances their mobility and boosts employability. One inspiring story is that of Sunderben Dhobi, a resident of Vadodara who, after losing her husband, has bravely taken on the responsibility of raising her three daughters while running an ironing shop. By learning to drive, Sunderben is now in the process of securing a loan to purchase an Ecco Van, which will enable her to expand her business and improve her family's livelihood. Through this program, Sunderben exemplifies resilience and determination, demonstrating how empowerment can transform lives and create new opportunities for women in challenging circumstances.

Empowering Education: Cosmo e-Gyan Seva Eases e-KYC Struggles in Villages

Due to a recent mandate by the Gujarat Education Department, linking ration cards with e-KYC has become mandatory for the scholarship process in schools and colleges. However, in rural areas, a shortage of operators has led to long queues, causing significant difficulties for students and parents as the deadline nears. To expedite the process, the government has directed schools to organize e-KYC update camps. Through Cosmo Foundation's Cosmo e-Gyan Seva, free e-KYC services were provided to 135 students in the villages of Handod, Sambhoi, and Kandari in Karjan Taluka, greatly benefiting local families and schools. This initiative has also sparked increased demand for similar camps from other schools.

Our school faced numerous challenges during the student scholarship process, particularly with the e-KYC of ration cards. This disrupted our academic activities, and due to a lack of technical knowledge, it became difficult to assist parents effectively. However, thanks to Cosmo Foundation's initiative, Cosmo E-Service center organized a camp at our school. Their efforts enabled students to successfully update their e-KYC details, and they provided valuable guidance to parents and students who lacked the necessary information.
